ADVANTAGES: Plenty chest loads of this household carpet adhesive and suddenly you'll be flying on the back of a magic eagle, trees will turn into laughing green giants and the grass will sing to you like that bloody candle stick in "Beauty and the Beast"

DISADVANTAGES: Just try telling that to the judge when the coppers catch you crawling on all fours, trousers round your ankles, Sainsbury's carrier bag stuck to your mouth, telling a small shrub you love it with all your heart.

ACID

(London Symphonia Orchestra, Tricks, Noddy Shit)

ADVANTAGES: This innocent piece of cardboard, once swallowed, will have you away with the fairies and no mistake. Whatever your lewd imagination can come up with will happen except it will all be in silly colours. Solving life's mysteries will be a peice of piss but recalling your name will be harder than climbing a mountain covered in greased accountants... which no doubt you'll get up to as well.

DISADVANTAGES: In the words of that long-haired git and the specky, slack jawed twat "See that T.V. short circuiting, that's your brain that is" Yes it's no wonder habitual acid users end up tattooing third eyes on their foreheads, reading "The Hobbit" twice a week and keep finding conspiracy theories on the back of cornflake packets.

CANNABIS

(Wacky Baccy, Bob Hope, Drawing Room)

ADVANTAGES: A few smokes of one of these "long cigarettes" and you'll be feeling mellowier than a pensioner watching "Inspector Morse". L.P.'s by Genesis will take on new and exciting meanings and you'll be giggling uncontrollably at sweet wrappers

AMPHETAMINES

(Speedy, Billy Graham, Instant Whip)

ADVANTAGES: Somewhat like drinking 50 cups of cheap Espresso coffee in one go. Once it takes effect, you'll be legging it round like a furiously overwound clockwork rabbit, telling anyone who'll listen about the time you fell off a wheelbarrow as a child and generally feeling a trace intense and earnest. young, hard and full of meat.

DISADVANTAGES: Having to watch "Job Club" and "The Big Breakfast" whilst pulling your hairs out one by one through inability to sleep is one thing, but that's a pleasure compared to the comedown. A bit like the stomach bit in "Aliens" combined with electric shock therapy..... And can you be sure your flatmate isn't a demonic imposter sent by the dark one to rip your spinal column out? Paranoia can be a smidgeon of a problem.

COKE

(Columbian Washing Powder, Pig In a Poke (Shit))

ADVANTAGES: Not to be confused with a well known fizzy drink, which when stuffed up the hooter, they've spent all their money on a mixture of baking soda and crystallized Peruvian peasant's sweat.

GILT PLATED BUBBLE MEN

CRACK

As above but you also turn into a rhinoceros.

ECSTASY

ADVANTAGES: Developed by Swiss scientists in the late 1950's as "the answer" to the tartness of artificial sweeteners, this so called designer drug came to the forefront in 1980's notorious "summer of love" where young people came together to "rave" in warehouses all night, have their coats stolen and smile too much... Inducing feelings of well being and love towards people who's trousers cost more than £50.00, 'E' can also drive you to dance to joyous rhythmic beats and then buy bottles of tap water for £1.75.

FRIED PECKING BREASTS

DISADVANTAGES: Not such a euphoric experience when the party is over and you're stuck there, on the point of collapse from nervous exhaustion, because you can't stop dancing to the 'infectious' beat of the extractor fan and you've just remembered spending

PISS STICKS! can be far from pleasant. A nights worth of the drug of the rich and stupid wont give you enough change out of £40 to buy a packet of Jaffa Cakes, so the trick here is to make sure everybody knows that you're having a REALLY GOOD TIME. Best to swan around the place, making over-flamboyant gestures, dropping less-than-subtle-hints as you visit the toilet every five minutes. Feelings of invincibility are commonplace.

KILL HIM UNTILL AFTER THIS SEASON'S FINISHED!!

Drinking fresh MENS milk was never such fun!

wanna say Shammbaa! Whatever happened to hate? Look no further as best LP of the year so far. Hot on the heels of Subpop comes the label SYMPATHY FOR THE MUSIC INDUSTRY.

Here's just some of the bands they've put out HEADCOOTEES (a great all girl 60s garage band), ANTISEEN, HOLE and honestly tons more. It's quite an unknown label over here, but I reckon it deserves a mention as a lot of the stuff they put out is good (I said a lot, the fools put a fucking Pooh Sticks 7" out).

Keep an eye out though... As I mentioned, the Headcoatees are worth checking out if you're into 60s garage music. I know they've got two LPs out and a couple of 7"s. Speaking of 7"s, the Seven Year Bitch LP is out and it's great. OK, here's some bands to "I won't come in the washin' up" watch out for, BIKINI KILL, DUH (great LP called "Blowhard"). Here's a few things that I could do without: the four-eyed cunt and bag of spanners

Everyone else I know is pathetic who introduces Raw, The Pooh Sticks, Shamen, Nirvana, the "Get Stuffed" TV show (someone please shoot those fucking rich boy students), the "Where's my jumper song", (I hate all you mother fuckers who dance to this, I hope you all catch fucking leprosy). I'm stopping here. The list is too long. Oh yeah, fuck "Wayne's World" quirky, American cunts that they are. Anyway, always remember "Candy is dandy but pussy don't rot your teeth"

During the mid 70's a gentleman by the name of Dermot Piper was credited with the discovery of 15 fossilized eggs in and around the village of Shibden Head, Yorkshire. After being x-rayed by the British Museum, to the astonishment of the museum experts and indeed Mr. Piper himself, 14 of the ancient eggs were found to contain rare recordings by pop outfit
'Manhattan Transfer' with lyric sheets and a limited selection of fine toffees. Several leading world scientists have confirmed the fossils authenticity, dating them as approximatly late neanderthal era, probably belonging to a breed of giant, ginger-haired limpet. The 15th egg was found to contain two whiskey based cocktails and a written statement from the aforementioned limpets addressed to Mr. Piper concerning his whereabouts on the 15th June 1971.
Mr. Piper refused to comment but was later seen at a popular east-coast resort smashing limpets whilst drunk on whiskey.

Dear Beccy: We don't have all the answers either. Recently some of us have gone through a very introspective period in our lives where we have been forced to contemplate many of the metaphysical concepts you've brought out. The best advice we can give you would be in the form of these words from Casey Kasem - "Keep your feet on the ground and keep reaching for the stars. This has been the American Top Forty". Thanks for your interest and support.

Greetings to the Buggers & Druggers!

Finally got a copy of "B&D" through the post this morning and what can I say? It made my eyes water, my teeth itch and my appendix started diving! Best zine I've read in bloody ages - not for you the painfully "politically correct" posing of certain rags, no sir! I was particularly glad to see crusties (or 'stenchies' as we call them) coming in for the slagging they so richly deserve. I look forward to the next "B&D" with bated breath and remember - "Jesus loves you - everyone else thinks you're an asshole"

Best regards,

Alison Drury,

No2 SANITARY TOWEL
DISPOSAL BAG

I am a *man/woman/a bit of both/neither. * Delete.

Yes, this is the man who appeared on Jonathon Ross' show with his airline Sick
Bag collection - B&D

Sickbags huh? Naaa, done that one. One minute expanding the boundaries of contemporary British collecting, next thing you know, everyone from all facets of life are queuing up on chat shows and the like ready to boast about their vomitorial objects d'art, desperately getting into their local free papers in a vain attempt to make their mothers think they are doing something useful with their lives.

CROCODILE THRILLS

Which brings me round to the fascinating hobby of Sanitary towel disposal bag collecting.
So, why collect these fascinating, useful and potentially valuable items of memorabilia? Well, usually when people ask me this question I say 'It's the big curved building at the bottom of Park Street, you can't miss it' However, being the season of good will etc.....

What better way to make new friends than hanging around ladies toilets asking for assistance with your desire? After which an invitation back to view the collection over dinner is only polite.

PISS BLAC-MANGE ANYONE?

My own collection can be split into three distinct geographical areas; English, British Commonwealth and Foreign. The English ones can be summed up as 'Small and inoffensive'. One firm, Southalls Hygiene of Birmingham has flooded the market with a thoroughly dull picture of an Elizabethan woman with

"Excuse me, could you tell me the history of your

"I'm sorry!"

THE Savage Seven

"The design on your sanitary disposal bags. I mean, are you planning to be more adventurous in the future? Commemorative issues showing the development of World War One biplanes perhaps?
Or how about 'famous blocked cisterns in history?'
By which time the fear of competition had clearly got

To her and the phone was slammed down. So sod them. What about the Commonwealth?

Well my favourite vestige of the Empire comes from the Ashok Hotel in India. A wonderful Hindi design surrounded by a garland of flowers. All very lovely, pity that the paper quality isn't up to much, doubtful whether it could hold a sneeze filled tissue, let alone a blood soaked lump of grunge on a string.

Finally, we have the international approach to livening up the act of towel disposal. I have one huge long bag from France large enough to save paper and cope with a whole years worth of soggy disposals. The only thing hinting at its particular use is the word 'Pain' on the side.

The Airports Authority of Thailand initiated the bi-napkin disposal' in Thai (always a good space filler on the CV). This bag also has the added attraction of being able to stand up, no doubt to encourage the resurgence that long forgotten sport 'tampon netball'.

And finally my fave, all the way from the Dong Fang Hotel in China, the only bag in my collection with a splash of colour (red). Not only does it have an appealing balance of text and design deserved of such an item, but it also has a capacity of almost three litres!

Up to a full pint for you and your chums for fuck all! Go up to the bar and order a pint and a pickled egg. Scoff the egg with vigour and gulp down at least half your beverage in one. Whilst the landlord is off rearranging his salt nuts or whatever, throw a hideous burp into your glass and cover with hand. Then announce at the bar, in a loud clear voice: "THIS BEER IS OFF LANDLORD!" Take your hand off just as they approach and encourage them to sniff. One lungfull of the foul beer-eggbreath-stench combination should have the man gagging back his lunch and secure you at least a new drink! Repeat as necessary until barred.

SEVEN DEADLY INCHES TOP TIPS TIP!

Stuck with an open bottle of cheapo tastes-like-a-badgers-anal-column wine? Problem solved! Just pop the vino in the fridge freezer compartment for an hour or so and hey presto! All the alcohol has floated to the top and the yukky stuff like flavourings and shit has frozen dog's boner solid! Drink the floating bit immediately and fight your mum.

IN THE FACE OF SENSIBLE DRINKING

IT'S A FACT

- The last half inch of beer left in a can is almost 50% spittle.
- Lisa Stansfield always downs a full bottle of "Merrydown" cider just before going onstage.
- Gin is in fact, methylated spirits with some vanilla flavouring added to it.
- The Levellers once turned down a sponsorship deal with HSL lager.
- In a survey, 93% of people who take blackcurrant in their lager or cider said they were in the pay of Satan and all his little helpers.

THE SYPHON TUBE: A hearty pre pub warm-up to get you in the mood for chronic liver damage. Simply find a 3 foot length of plastic tubing and insert one end into your chosen poison. Put the other end in your gob and raise the bottle, or whatever, above head height, whilst sucking like a big baby on a tit. So supplying a constant stream of happy fluid to your gullet. Glug like a trooper until you can swallow no more, lower the bottle thus cutting off the flow, and pass onwards. Longest "go" wins a moustache and a false tattoo, shortest time should be made to wear a dress and do a "I'm a little teapot" dance.

THE FUNNEL: For the more advanced drinker.

1. Lie on your back
2. Place funnel in mouth
3. Slowly pour the booze into funnel
4. Drink until you start choking
5. First one to cry out for a stomach pump has his trousers set on fire.

SEATTLE, WASHINGTON
U.S. OF A

"That's A for authority" snaps Mr Border Guard as he applies rubber gloves, bends me over, looks up old brown eye and wiggles me plums. I fear a cup of bum tea is about to be brewed. I suppress the inevitable by mentally picturing Mr Customs Officer in full glansman kit (fascist) nuttin' muscling breasts.

He finishes his perverted pleasure of a job, stamps me passport and remarks "Have a nice Day!" After having the fist of Giant Haystack up me ass, S'pose.... I get back on the bus, named after a dog (not a pit bull). Maybe it was a mistake wearing that new Bugs and Drugs sweatshirt (Ads at the back - Ed). The bus shoots along at a fair old pace. I'm happy to be on the move again, away from the Fist. Then suddenly we stop. I look

B out of the window to see what looks like a spotty, crap, teenage raver in a cowboy hat giving the driver a speeding ticket. The driver gets back on the bus commenting on the cop's preferred sexual practices. On we proceed, although a bit slower. Bloody filth. I finally arrive in the city of Grunge - or is that Punge (Punk Grunge crossover). Downtown has big skyscrapers, big hair, and a big number of armed gangs lurking after dark. My new found friends meet me from the bus and we head off into the U-District for some slap up dinner. We arrive at a dilapidated old church. I wonder if my new friends are religious types. Maybe ex-junkies. Born againers.

HA-HA SEXFACE.

AIRFIX SCREWS YOU UP

The types that stop you in the street tell you they can relate and how they found god in a syringe. Fuckin' zoomers. The place is called "Team Feed". Better name than "Sally Army".

Inside there's a queue of punks, grungers, whatever in time for free pizza. They include several members of Green River, Feltchtones, Seven Year Bitch, Zip Gun, Alcohol Funny Car and other something for nothings. I bolt back me slice, get some party numbers and head off to the "pub" for liquid desert. BE A MONSTER!

DOWN THE PUB
The Comet Bar - Alternative grunge punk dry heave bar in the U-District. The buildings are covered in graffiti art, by local undiscovered artists (s'pose they are). I get my ID and checked on the way in. Yes folks, you gotta be 21 to drink. They'd check you if you were 50 with a walking frame. Inside the bar there's more graffiti and goaties (bring your own marker pens). I'm not pulling your plonker! I get to the bar, buy a pitcher jug (beer to you) and a small glass, then another pitcher, then another, then.... All of a sudden I'm at a party. I wander around. There's a group of people watching fuck films in one room. I enter, but don't stay long. Pigs in leather knickers ain't my scene. The rest of the place is too busy discussing how they discovered Nirvana (really...) I wander outside for yet another piss. Christ maybe 24 cans of lager for 3 quid was a bad investment. It's time to hit the gin and tonics. The rest of the pub arrives. The musics cranked. The toilet's flooded. I witness a tea bagging session. A most unhygienic practice. This is when the passed out drunk geezer gets the usual treatment from his mates, ie marmite on his lips, make up by Felt du Tip and fag motif drawn on forehead. As if that's not enough, his mates drop their trousers and dunk their scrotum sacks focus on the room. It could have been a beer can recycling debot. Strange, very strange. Crashed out amongst the cans, I spy more bodies. Victims of the night before. Clomp, clomp, clomp... The door opens. A chorus of "Beer". I'm confronted by goatied faces. Is this the Ant Hill Mob. No - I'm in Seattle and it's breakfast "beer time". The day begins

NYLON Quilted

DING-A-LING DANG MA DANG-A LONG DING DONG!!

Welcome to the land of zerox nasties, multi-coloured funnies and interviews-u-hate from small press bores. It's all here and most of it's queer. Do remember if you send off for one of these here pamphlets UNDER NO CIRCUMSTANCES enclose a stamped addressed envelope! It makes farzine writers VERY angry as they enjoy spending their money on pretty stamps.

GUBBA GRUB #2

Carter? Isle of Wright Donkey Sanctuary? Aldershot F.C? Is this some kind of joke?... Well no it's not, but if you mucho dig debunked football teams, interviews with South London clowns and a spicy bit of political intrigue, then here's your baby. Nasty pink cover gets a three on the Richter scale of puke-ability. (30p - 4 Shortheath Road, Farnham, Surrey, GU9 8SR)

WHY SHIVER? LEARN

MEAT CUTTING

HATE #11

Not a comic. THE only fucking comic worth coughing up your shekels for. Get yee behind us blokes in tights and 10 pence mutants with grenade launchers up their backsides, "HATE" is the sickening true tales of slacker life in Beantown USA. Scary, pointless and split your liver funny, the art looks Disney's Goofy did it on steroids.

and the story lines are so damn real you feel you wanna jump inside he pages and get involved! Bella! Bella! Three encores and a roll of barbed wit (£1.25 from the proper comic store places)

HAPPENING LEATHER CONDOMS

POON ZOMBE #3

Man who write this have Debbie Harry on brain! Him like her more than fish and chips! Him no taste! Apart from the endless Blondie singer photos, it's a pert pair of breasts kind of zine. Layout wize it's much the same age as THIS zine, but who's splitting crocodile pubes, huh? Lots of lively shit on all things. Ipswich, crap jokes, cut out tomfoolery and all round 3 hoots on the horn of wize investments, yes sir! (50p - 295 Cauldwell Hall Road, Ipswich, IP4 5AJ)

ABLAZE! #9

It's big! It's colour! It's got three Nirvana interviews and it's pretty damned old... Well #10 should be pretty bloody like now, but the editors are probably working for NME by now (only joking missus!)... Readable interviews by the hatfull (MBV, Leatherface, Pavement), graphically snazzy with underground info galore. All together a right posh, read without being pompous. Even a toad's toenail, you get a free fixxi; of the Weedy Present! But don't touch it cos you might catch ironic, Northerners Disease. (£1.90 - 17, Wetherby Grove, Leeds, LS4 2JH)

EERIE TERROR LURKS AT EVERY TURN

TOOT! TOOT! TOOT!

YOU'RE SO HIDEOUS #2

We stumbled across Mr Ben-o-miser, (the creator of this vicious little rag) at a sad old punk gig recently and he were that drunk he gave us a free copy and then puked on our thighs. But then space aliens stole it, so there you go... Still we do recall it contains Euro squat news, freaky letters, poor quality humour and enough bile to float the moon. This man should seek medical help. (25p - Box Zero, 121 Railton Road, London, SE 24)

DREGS #6

Hot, sticky and another zine with punk groups gabbing on about things that fury them. What is it with these zine writers types? Lighten up for Christ's sake ya boobies.... Still this is Britain's SECOND best zine with Big Band head to heads (Rollins, L7, heartrending and mischievous shit besides. Send him a pound and he'll spend it on male porn books. (£1.00 - Duncan, PO Box 110, Liverpool, L69 8DP)

UK RESIST #6

Lengthy letters from fools, lonely punks columns! Yes, it's the glossy face of UK pun-krock thing with all kinds of shady stuff on most of your favourite HC acts in a varied and somewhat lavish lay out style. Pity it smells of cabbage.. (50p - PO Box 244a, Surbiton, Surrey, KT5 9LU)

HEY DADDIO I DON'T WANT TO GO DOWN TO THE BASEMENT!

HARLEQUIN

The everyday tales of strange brained North London folk in a comic strip formation. A touch like "Love and Rockets" but with less tacos and more homebrew plus the odd sicko collage thrown in for weird beard appeal... Fine enough for us to steal from in fact. and we don't give a truck load of monkeys knuckles if anyone knows it. (£1.00 - Box 4, 136 Kingsland High St, Hackney, London, E8)

REALLY? HOW VERY INTERESTING!

ALL THE RAGE #1 "From the hard north" boasts the front cover of this zine, that also comes from the same Geordie slapper who does "Have a Good Laugh". Plenty of good old-fash. punk rock hate against fashion, ginger hair and the usual political subjects. Chucked in for good measure is a bit of thrash music and a rather fetching dinosaur on the cover. Worth the price of a good cup of tea at least. (25p - 57 Briardene, Burnofield, Newcastle Upon Tyne, NE16 6LJ)

FEAR AND LOATHING #15

...Of drip dry clothing? If only... Ten times ace zine with a scrumptuous cherry on the top. This particular issue, subtitled "Gripe" is dedicated to airing Thrash & Bash music players' moanings about late buses, bad people and bees that get in their bonnet. And that's it. No crap interviews, no anarcho s moaning about the evils of kebabs, just pure unadulterated hate-on-a-lollipop-stick. Buy and find out why the bassist of Wat Tyler dislikes very much UB40. (50p - Six of one, CT4 7AH)

A STORY ABOUT A GUY WHO IS UNPOPULAR AND DOESN'T KNOW WHY

WILL YOU BE MY STEADY GIRL? NO NEVER.

COOL CLUB NO!

NOW HE KNOWS, BUT IT'S TOO LATE! LET US ALL LAUGH AT HIS MISFORTUNE!

HOAX! "I won't come in your mouth"

The zine that tells you how to create merry McFucking Hell with companies, institutions, etc... that piss you right off. Super glueing, phone abusing, computer tampering and tips-a-plenty for the merry prankster. Also you get stuff on urban legends and a long-as-a-conga-eel list of zines. No price so just send a tin of kidney beans or summin (Aux, 84 Beechgrove Brecn, Powys, Wales, LD3 9ET).

BEAVER shiva/leave her/meat cleaver/heavy

That's all the fannying about on fanzines for this time round. Keep sending them in but we'll be reviewing seed catalogues next issue, so there's not a lot of point really....

by Rich Holder

It's the end of the week and I'm broke again. OH GOD, not another night of shivering next to the horrid bog snells.

It's been so long since I could afford alcohol that it hit me like a sledgehammer!

We danced passionately ♡ ♡ ♡ long into the night

REVIEWS CONT.

NAKED TRUTH "Read This" (Sony 10")
CC : Bugging heck! Another rambling vocal start. What is it with Americans? The Kids want rock from word go.
BH : Heavy handed rock fund, if you put it on an identity parade with Faith No More you'd never pick it out.

BH : Looks like Sony want their own FM and by the anal beard of Homer Simpson I think they've got it.

Pilchard-face CLITORIS

JS : Shit! It works on both 45 and 33. Novelty double speed record. Slow and rhythmic or fast and Doobie Ducks Disco.

CC : Slick arsed funk metal for MTV types who eat too many Chicken McNuggets.

Tsunami "Load Hog" (SMH 7")
BH : Cool record title and a nice fold out sleeve for a toddler to have an eye out on. (Music begins....)
CC : Awww! What a fuckin' let down! This should be on "Sarah" records.
BH : An old pork chop of a song. The "Sundays" to a quite considerable degree, oh yes.

JS : Obviously they bought a load of jangly indie records on a trip to England and thought they were right smart.... but it's not and they're shown up!
BH : And it's their 7th single. Nos 1 - 6 are no doubt piled up in one of their dad's garage.

ARE MY NIPPLES Bing Crosby

DIDJITS "Little Miss Carriage" (Touch & Go 12")
CC : They do say the singer is a midget. Midget Didjit!
BH : Flip wiggling snarly cover of "Rock the Nation" on this. Feisty turbulent rockin' hot pie of a sound... The voice is a bit crap, sounds like Jello "Cleft" Biafro.

CC : Proper punking for those who look back at the early eighties with misty eyes and hard genitals.

BH : Circus clown punk a la Dickies without the crud and heroin... Riff-a-rama utilising crunching guitar and pastry cake drums. Music for elephants to perform tricks to.

JAW BOX "Dis 7?" (Dischord 7")

CC : Hampered they can only be by their Fugazi connection as Ian

"fishnets and a PVC skirt" McKaye is twiddling the knobs on this... Sounds like he bloody recorded his own voice on this, after the band went home.

JS : Upon the beat thrash pop - like Fugazi after a hard drinking session.

BH : Juicy'n'moody. I like it more than fried rice. FOOL YOUR FRIENDS AND ENEMIES.

SOMETIMES PEOPLE ASK ME IF I EVER WISH I HAD A WIFE, AND I SAY "YEAH, WHEN MY BACK ITCHES!"

BH : Good name for Ice Cubes DJ - "MC 13 flavours of Doom at the controls boyeee!"

HAS FRENCH KISSING GIVEN ME CANCER?

CC : It's bloody D.O.A and no mistake! They're back with their best punk-whirl-avalanche trousers on. Beer drinking, hockey watching and getting fa JS : Yeah, no more trying to be a sad awful metal band on some nipple licking major label. It's swearing and Union strikes time.

I FOUND COTTON POLO NECKS MY BROTHER'S BEDROOM

BH : Ear blistering, blow-your-stubble-back-in thrash with a Hammerite coating... The Canadian Ramones or what? (session ends at this point when the beer runs dry and there's a mad dash down to the offy to exchange the review; LPs for alcohol and flapjacks.

Heroic battle anthems for brave Rock warriors :- Mull, Technogod, D.O.A.
Swiss cheese running away music for pacifists :- Phobia, The Urge, Overkill, Tsunami.

SCARED OF PORK? FEAR OF LIVER!

RIO! GIRL! NECK! LACE! PEAR!

WILLY CANNIBAL ON CHERRY HEROIN

JC : Sleazing rocker with a coating of axle grease... They're a three piece from motor city... Detroit that is, Doom brains...
BH : Heavy as a lead-encased office block with a vocalist who no doubt got a cheeze grater rammed down his throat. alien-under-Belly.
CC : Ah! There's also a Bee Gees cover on the flip side... sounds like the "Cult" on a harsh methadone program trying to remember how to play "Wild Thing"... Good laugh though of an album for fans though.

WHO OF THOUGHT IT, ME, D.J. BARRY BETHMALL A FLABBY OLD SPUNKY!

CC : It's a load of pants, full stop.
BH : Thank you for that constructive comment Curt.

JESUS LIZARD "Liar" (Touch & Go LP)
JS : Good sicko Beatrix Potter on drugs drawing kinda LP sleeve.
BH : Cranked up industrial battalions marching on fields on disused generators. This year's Ministry? Big Black? Far, too harsh and suffocating for that.

CC : Music that conjures up visions of severed dogs heads covered in fleas.

JS : The megaphone, police cone vocals sound a bit dated mind.

BH : Will grow on you like a smashing handle bar moustache or I'll eat my fuck.

take propoganda on their lyric sheet.
JS : Breezy accoustic hardcore with a thin veneer of menace and some dumb ass sayings in the lyrics, bit

CAN YOU HEAR SOUND OF THE ENORMOUS KEBAB ROTATING IN THE DEPTHS OF HELL!

TECHNO GOD "Hemo Glowball" (Contempo 12")

JC : This lot supported those right on slapheads "Consolidated" on their recent tour.

BH : Sure as a diddy-buttsteak don't sound like the same band I seen. This lot must be body invaders from the Planet Mellow.

CC : Similar to a Marvel team up between "Cameo" and "Simple Minds", very 80s.

I AM NOT AN AIDS VICTIM!

BH : Says here: "Not homo, hetro or human but Hemo-sexual-global in all its complexity"

CC : How about crappo-sexual? Poor pop with Hemo-megazero appeal to the Kids.

JS : A whole shit load better if it was 3,000 times louder and there's a lot of spanners and welding noises thrown in there to boot.

BH : See live, forget this jive.

YOU'RE THE AIDS VICTIM!

NATION OF ULYSSES "Plays Pretty" (Dischord LP)
BH : Gee wilkers, they're all dressed up like the "Reservoir Dogs", makes

CRIMPLINE Spacecraft

a change as most Yank bands look like they've been fixing an old car for a month.

CC : A very Nick Cavey intro, sounds like some kind of live LP?

BH : Not too keen on their thrash-a-thon sound, but I sure as a melted woodpecker like all the weirdo piss-

BH : Total indie club music, the sort of that gets the punters galloping towards the dance floor... I'm-so-happy -hair-swishing stuff.

JS : About as grunge as Felicity Kendal.

CC : Something to buy a soppy student girlfriend... And as you should do with a family cat it's time to throw it out for the night and hope it don't come back in the morning.

70s CLONE

- ◆ HANGOUTS - Miss Selfridge, British Home Stores cafe and Cancer Research charity shops.
- ◆ LIKES - "Hendrix, Doors and anything '70's", not looking like anyone else at college and the drummer in the Lenny Kravitz video.
- ◆ HATES - 'Chart music' and 'Man's inhumanity to man'... plus people who still wear straight trousers.
- ◆ FAVOURITE FOOD - Burger King spicy bean burger with fries and "a good gossip".....
- ◆ SWORN ENEMY - Raver type (because the 'scene' is so 'insensitive' and the music is so 'eighties')

ROCK GUY

- ◆ HANGOUTS - Standing in narrow corridors near girl's toilets in crowded pubs.
- ◆ LIKES - Tying fake silk sashes around each and every limb. Reciting large sections of "Spinal Tap" at closing time.
- ◆ HATES - "Girls who don't make the best of themselves", flares and the price of C.D.'s.
- ◆ MOMENT OF GLORY - Hitting Tommy Vance with an empty lemonade bottle at "Monsters of Rock" in 1988.
- ◆ PROBABLE NAME - Dave or Andy.

STUDENT ARSE

- ◆ HANGOUTS - Never seen outside Student Union Bar, unless at invite only parties.
- ◆ LIKES - Shopping at Italian 'deli's' until their grants run out, sad drinking games that involve 'raucous behaviour' and going to see the 'Blues Brothers' dressed in sunglasses and a crap suit.
- ◆ HATES - Paying more than £1.02 a pint & girls.
- ◆ SWORN ENEMY - Gatecrashers.
- ◆ PROBABLE NAME - D'Arcy.
- ◆ FAVOURITE SAYINGS - "Now look! You're not invited and you didn't even bring a bottle".

INDIE KIDS

- ◆ HANGOUTS - Outside 'Ride' gigs at 3.30pm in the afternoon or drinking cheap cider in a shady alley round the corner from the village hall 'alternative' disco.
- ◆ LIKES - At a gig, sitting in a large group, preferably blocking a stairway exit until the band come on when they stand like statues at the back smoking roll-ups.
- ◆ HATES - The Wonderstuff for wearing suits and the Mega City Four 'cos they've gone all crusty.
- ◆ FAVOURITE SAYINGS - "Tut... how could they put blah, blah, blah on the cover of Melody Maker.
- ◆ PROBABLE NAME - Matt and Emma.
